Feminism, Multiculturalism, and the Media: Global Diversities From Angharad N Valdivia

The multiplicity of voices in this volume illustrate the contradictions inherent in multicultural and feminist perspectives on the media. This book breaks new ground by exploring intersecting variables of oppression, from the personal to the political. Compelling case studies illustrate how issues of gender, ethnicity, class, sexual orientation and global origin affect the media coverage, portrayal and reception of individuals. The chapters present theoretical perspectives plus examples of methodologies, focus on topics of current interest and represent a variety of media.

Editorial Review

Review

Many contributors illustrate contradictions in multicultural and feminist media perspectives. These embrace more than feminist analysis: they illustrate how gender, race, class and ethnicity affect media coverage and reception, providing theoretical approaches to analyzing media coverage. -- Midwest Book Review
