Contextualization in World Missions: Mapping and Assessing Evangelical Models By A. Scott Moreau

Contextualization is the art of translating ideas into a particular situation, place or culture. It is fundamental to communication, which makes contextualization essential in missions. This textbook pulls together and maps the variety of evangelical approaches to contextualization. Introductory classes on contextualization and missionary preparation institutes will appreciate this valuable textbook. Contextualization in Missions will guide mission-minded Christians to an informed plan for spreading the gospel effectively. While written with a theoretical perspective, Contextualization in Missions also provides real-world examples to provoke both thought and action.

Editorial Review

Review

"A contemporary, nuanced account of evangelical contextualization models fills a great need not only for missiologists and missionaries, but also among theologians and biblical scholars. Scott Moreau is a trustworthy guide, and his research will raise awareness of authentically global theology while further informing current hermeneutical discussions." (Daniel J. Treier, Professor of Theology Wheaton College 2012-12-01)

"One shouldn't study contextualization without access to Moreau's work." (Paul W. Shea, Associate Professor of Missions Houghton College 2012-12-01)

"A way forward--a map--for evangelical intercultural workers to navigate the often uncertain terrain of contextualization." (Edward Smither, Professor of Intercultural Studies Columbia International University 2012-12-01)

"A very thoughtful treatment of one of the most important and controversial issues of the day--contextualization." (Geoff Tunnicliffe, CEO/Secretary General World Evangelical Alliance 2012-12-01)
